SCOPE OF THE PROCESSING

With this document we explain what we do with the data you entrust us when you use our services, why we use your data, why we collect, store and protect it.

As described in the introduction our services are extensive and can be used in various ways. For some interested we are the "Controller" for others only the "Processor", but we would like to point out that all data you provide us are used only for the performance of the services and for the obligations required by law and current regulations.

With this document we illustrate:

- The collected data and the purposes we have
- How to use this data
- How to access, modify and delete this information

We have tried, inspired by the principles of the Regulation, to keep the terms of the discussion broad and easy to understand, but the type of services that we deliver obliges us to cite terms such as IP Address, Browser, Log, Accounting, Cookie, Internet of Things (IOT). On these important terms we put the references in Italian to Wikipedia in order to allow you a more agile understanding. If we do not succeed, because for T.net the protection of your data is primary and all our customers, large or small, should know our ways to process the data and respect your privacy, we have put an address for your mail to contact us for any specific problem and request for specific clarification.

COLLECTED DATA

We collect data on how you use our services in relation to billing requirements and legal requirements, but we do not make any record of the related content in terms, for example, of websites users visited if your service is a Broadband connection, but only the IP address user, of the access and end times of navigation.

For the Cloud Services, we only register the allocated resources, the IPs and (if for consumption) the possible times of use, but not how the resources have been used.

We therefore do not collect information on the services used by the interested parties in terms of how they are used, such as for example. if a video is viewed, an application downloaded, etc.

If the user has given his consent and receives our mails we monitor:

- The type of device from which it is opened (desktop, mobile, etc.)
- The IP from which the email is opened

On SaaS, Cloud Bags, Cloud Mail, Cloud PBX, Cloud PaaS we monitor anomalous device activity both for security reasons and for detecting abnormal shutdowns, system activity, incorrect hardware settings, types of browsers used, device types used, date and time of the requests and any reference operations that generated the anomaly.

On our websites and portals, we monitor cookies, as specified below, to uniquely identify the user, session and account of the interested party.

For Clients who use the MAPI CloudMail's services, for the sole purpose of security, we detect the access position by accessing the mobile or fixed device, but requesting its consent, directly from the installed email application.

In this regard, to protect the information to which the party grants access, such as messages, photos, address book, agenda we oblige the user to specify a PIN to access the device.

Data Controller does not use or exercise any processing in relation to these data, which are recorded on multiple databases whose access is protected through procedures that restrict the persons with access to such data and record all requests on appropriate unalterable syslogger.

Pursuant to Article 9, paragraph 1 of Regulation 679/2016, no personal data revealing racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, trade union membership, or data relating to health or sexual orientation is memorized, detected or in some way traced by our systems.

For issues related to Accounting, invoicing and legal obligations to the Authorities, the IP assigned to the data subject and the relative access and end time of the connection are recorded.

With regard to the SaaS Services provided in the healthcare sector and for which T.net S.p.A. is the "Data Processor", appropriate protection and access systems "WAF" or Web Application Firewall have been suitably prepared.
